CITY TRUSTEES

Owens River Water Proposition Discussed by F. G. Henderson—Interesting Details Developed—Water Company Enjoins Citizens; City Attorney Will Defend Them—Option on Lot for Fire House

All members present. After minutes had been read and some other routine business transacted the board was addressed by Mr. F. G. Henderson, chairman of the Los Angeles committee on public service. He referred to the copy of proposed contract for Owens river water. He stated that the main idea of the commission is to favor water users who are not irrigators. Further that water should be furnished outside municipalities at rate which would enable them to distribute it at a cost about equal to the charge in Los Angeles where minimum rate is 75 cents. The trustees were furnished with copy of proposed contract and the provisions were discussed informally with Mr. Henderson. In regard to provision to the effect that the city of Glendale if taking the water would be required to take certain qpantity of water whether used or not, he stated that this was thought to be just, as the city of Los Angeles must set that quantity aside with the view of disposing of it to the party leasing it in perpetuity. Further it developed that the city of Los Angeles would expect the city of Glendale, if taking the water, to pay for it at about cost. The city of Glendale would have to levy a bond issue to pay its proportion of first cost in addition to rental and the cost of distributing system. Los Angeles could probably deliver water to Glendale in about a year; it will be probably two years and a half before water can be delivered to Pasadena and Glendora from the high line on account of tunnel necessary to be constructed. The proposed elevation of the high line will be about 1300 or 1400 feet. Mr. Henderson explained that the high line would tap the aqueduct direct, not leading from the reservoir. It is not probable, he thinks that the reservoir water will be of the best as the area will be too large to admit of covering it. It was made clear by Mr. Henderson that Glendale would pay about $1500 an inch and in addition pay about 3½ cents for 100 cubic feet. He stated that the practice in Los Angeles at present is to charge new extensions against the property benefited; that new connections are charged at from nine dollars up with no charge for meters.

The conference lasted about half an hour, when Mr. Henderson left and the trustees went ahead with other business.

The question of the protection of the banks of the wash at Louise street was discussed for some time. The opinion prevailed that wire and brush furnish the best protection and should be used. The street superintendent estimated that $100 will do the work and he was authorized on motion of Mr. Lane to go ahead and attend to it. The matter of the nuisance consisting of loose papers on public streets was discussed and the city attorney was instructed on motion of Mr. Tower to draw up an ordinance to prevent the same. The chairman reported that injunctions had been served on J. W. Venable and others by the Consolidated Water Co. to prevent them from making connections with the water company main contrary to the regulations of the water company. The city attorney was instructed to defend these cases, the trouble being caused by the action of the city in endeavoring to enforce the ordinance requiring water company to make connections free of charge.

An ordinance ordering the abandonment of the proceedings of Doran street from Louise to Glendale avenue, was read third time and adopted. The matter of the opening of Orange street was laid over for one week and the city engineer was instructed to learn the wishes of the people in the neighborhood of First street in regard to the matter. On motion of Mr. Coker the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for the furnishing of fire apparatus in accordance with specifications on file. The matter of an ordinance regulating dairies was brought up and on motion of Mr. Lane the public welfare committee was instructed to prepare such an ordinance. The street superintendent was directed to report on the advisability of improving Mariposa street.

A communication was read from M. S. Van Luven asking whether the express companies should not be required to deliver packages free within the city limits, they at present refusing such delivery west of Central avenue. Referred to city attorney.

Another communication was read from R. L. Fisher complaining of deposit of rubbish at Sixth and Brand; referred to street superintendent.

Report was received from city marshal and referred.

Report of recorder showing 24 cases and fines collected $178 for December, was received and filed.

Report of building inspector showing 85 permits, value $91,985, for December, was received.

Report of street superintendent was received, reporting satisfactory progress in street improvements

Report of health officer showed scarlet fever 2 cases, measles 2, tuberculosis 2.

City clerk's report was received and filed.

On motion of Mr. Tower, the city attorney was directed to report on the matter of the practice of the railroad company of charging an extra nickel from Broadway north.

Mr. Coker brought up the question of the discretion of the street superintendent in keeping streets open for traffic in cases where repairs are being made on streets. On motion the matter was referred to public works committee to have ordinance prepared.

The option of the city on lot 28 block 48 (Broadway near Louise) for $3500 which is about to expire, was referred to committee to secure extension. This lot is thought favorably of by trustees for a fire house, but considerable discussion took place. Mr. Lane favored the purchase of a lot on a side street not only because it could be secured for less money, but would in his opinion better answer the purpose. The other members of the board however favored the Broadway lot.

A case of destitution on Vine street was referred to the marshal for investigation.

Pretty decorations were formed of garlands of holly and other holiday greenery.

The program was rendered in two parts and, during intermission light refreshments were served. Mrs. Freeman Kelley and Mrs. F. W. Pigg assisted Mrs. Jones in serving.

EVIDENCES OF GROWTH

A Number of Interesting Facts Showing the Progress of the Past Year—Increases in Values of Real Estate, Etc.

HOW THE TELEPHONE BUSINESS GROWS.

The Sunset Telephone Co. had in service Dec. 31st, 1911, in the Glendale district (including Glendale, Tropico, Burbank and Sunland) 1100 telephones. On Dec. 31st, 1912, the number had increased to 1412, an average gain per month of over 25 services. November and December were the heaviest months, the former having a record of sixty orders received and the latter month 71. A new panel has recently been added to the switchboard at the main office, making room for 100 additional lines and two other panels have been ordered of 100 lines each. The operating force consists of 14 employes.

The appreciation in the values of Glendale business property during the past six months has been remarkable. A lot on Broadway corner of Howard street was sold four months ago for $4900. The owners refused during the last week a cash offer of $6000. The demand for property in that portion of the business district was demonstrated in the last ten days by the fact that the northwest corner of Glendale avenue and Broadway, being advertised by a prominent realty firm in that section, brought out a half dozen offers, the lowest $750 below the figure asked, which was $9500. The deal finally went through at the last named figure, the purchaser being Mr. J. H. Collier of Rock Island, Ill. This property was purchased about three months ago by Mrs. Hattie Musser at about $8000. This lot has a frontage of fifty feet on Broadway and 85 on Glendale avenue, and has two frame buildings on it, the one on Glendale avenue being occupied by the GLENDALE NEWS.

INCREASE IN POSTOFFICE BUSINESS.

The business of the Glendale postoffice (officially a branch of Los Angeles) during the year just ended, as shown by the sale of stamps, has increased 33 1-3 per cent. The sale of stamps for the month of December amounting to $1832 beating the record by almost 50 per cent. During the year one clerk and two carriers have been added to the working force; there has been an increase in the territory covered by the free delivery and a further increase is contemplated in the near future which will result in the addition of probably two more carriers to the force. The city is not yet covered entirely by the free delivery service. The R.F.D. service still covers some of the territory within the city and is far from being satisfactory, but it is hoped that this condition will soon be relieved.

BUILDING OPERATIONS.

Among recent building permits issued are the following, making December the banner month of the year and aggregating with others of smaller amounts the sum of $91,985:

First National Bank, Broadway and Brand, $17,000.

W. H. Hughes, Jackson between Second and Third, dwelling, $1800.

M. E. Hyde, Vine street between Pacific and Columbus, $1500.

E. C. Williamson, 625 Louise St., $2000.

Jas. B. Bloor, Maryland, between First and Doran, $4000.

Geo. D. Alston, Fairview and Louise, $2000.

Mrs. F. Zerr, addition, 141 Cedar street, $1000.

C. W. Ingledue, Third and Jackson, $1000.

Residence, 2-story, 8 rooms, Brand boulevard near Burchett St., G. E. McIver, owner; H. C. Michael, builder, $3000.

Residence, 5 rooms, 326 Isabel St.; John Menke, owner and builder, $1200.

Residence, 5 rooms, Hawthorne near Pacific, W. R. Dobbins, owner and builder, $1000.

Stores and flats, 2-story, 20 rooms, brick, 1116 Broadway, Geo. G. Fulmer, owner and builder, $12,000.

Stores and flats, 2-story, 16 rooms, brick, 1112 Broadway, L. A. Wright owner and builder, $7000.

Residence, 5 rooms, Oak near Central avenue, Myrtle W. Beal, owner and builder, $2000.

Residence, 5 rooms, Howard near First St., Mrs. Ott, owner and builder, $2000.

Residence, 5 rooms, 317 Belmont St., B. F. Patterson, owner and builder, $2000.

The total sum represented by the permits issued for the year 1912 by Building Superintendent J. M. Banker amounts to $659,492 as against last year's total of $421,899. This puts Glendale eighth in order among the cities of Southern California, as follows, Los Angeles, San Diego, Venice, Long Beach, Pasadena, Santa Monica, Riverside, Glendale.

H. E. Betz, has the contract for the brick work for the two-story store and hotel building to be erected at 1116 Broadway for Geo. A. Fulmer. It will have pressed brick front, and will contain twenty rooms on the second floor. The cost will be $20,000, Tuttle & Hopkins, Delta building, drew the plans.

C. B. Cunningham, 1322 Chestnut St., has signed a contract at $5065, not including the plumbing, heating or electric fixtures, for the erection of a two-story and basement 10-room frame residence at Ninth street and Glendale avenue, Glendale, for Henry Braun. Concrete foundations, resawn siding and shingle exterior, asbestos roof, O. P. and hardwood floors, pine trim, Grueby tile mantel, plate glass, tile bathroom and shower bath, furnace, automatic water heater, brick porch.

Residence at Tropico, Robert Devail, owner; C. E. Shattuck, architect; W. H. Jay, contractor, for the erection of a two-story, eight-room residence on part of Rancho San Rafael, on San Fernando road, Tropico. Amount, $5050.

Myrtle F. and Leo S. Putnam, Balboa, owners; Wm. J. H. Brine, contractor, a six-room bungalow on lot 9, block 3, tract 1578, on the west side of Gardena avenue south of boulevard. Amount, $2000.

GROWTH OF MUNICIPAL LIGHTING PLANT.

The growth of Glendale's municipal lighting system, demonstrates as well as anything else the growth of the city during the past year, although comparisons are somewhat deceptive owing to the fact of the west side addition to the city only figuring in the last year's business.

In April last the city took over from L. C. Brand on the west side 311 consumers as shown by the number of meters. There were set during the year just ended 700 emters, 450 of which were in the old portion of the city and 528 in the new. The entire number of meters now in use is 1850. Seventy-one meters were set in December and fiftéen during the first six days of the new year. During the last six months of the year the number of meters installed averaged 62, or a few over two a day, there being 380 set from July to January. The cost of the meters alone is an important and heavy item in the expense of the system, amounting during the year to something like $2000. One meter is estimated to bring in a revenue to the department of about $20 a year. The installation of meters also means expenditure for service in the way of extensions of lines, the purchase of copper wire, transformers, regulators, etc.

The gross receipts of the department during the year was $30,700. There was spent for betterments out of these receipts the sum of $9180. The debt of the department was reduced to the extent of $3000, of which sum one-half was represented by bonds and the other half paid L. C. Brand as balance due him. The increased equity gained by the department amounted to about $1000 a month.

On Brand boulevard there have been a number of recent transactions illustrating our point that Glendale property, in the business district particularly, is on the swift upward grade. W. E. Evans bought two months ago a lot on Brand boulevard, just below Broadway, for $1,900, which he has since disposed of at an advance of $600. This was a 25-foot lot. Mr. Hadley recently bought of T. A. Wright a 50-foot lot adjoining the First National Bank property on the southwest corner of the above named streets for $5,000. These lots are a portion of the old High School tract, which was sold about three years ago for subdivision and lots placed on the market at $750. A lot on the northwest corner of Brand and Fifth street was purchased two years ago for $3,500, and has been sold during the past month for $5,700. Going a little farther back, it may be stated in passing that about 1905, when there was an auction sale of a hundred lots or so on Fourth street (now Broadway), including the Sanitarium property, the highest price paid for any of the lots was $250. These lots will now sell on sight for from $4,000 to $5,000. The best feature of these advances in price is that they represent a legitimate increase in values based upon the fact that business structures have been erected in their immdiate vicinity which are paying an income of 10 per cent or more on the investment at these figures.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL.

During the beginning of the present cold spell there was some trouble in getting the heating apparatus to distribute its comfort over the building, but a supplementary system of heating by steam has been installed, and the atmosphere is more genial.

The total enrollment is now up to 347, as against 296 for last year. The following are recent enrollments: Wilbur Chappell, ninth year, from La Crescenta; Paul McCowan, ninth year, from Walla Walla; Leslie Spencer, ninth year, intermediate school, Los Angeles; Wayne Smith, tenth year, Los Angeles Polytechnic; Lulu Pond, ninth year, Los Angeles; Galen Gould-ninth year, Anaheim.

Miss Hawk has been absent two days on the sick list, suffering from tonsilitis. Miss Flood has also been the victim for a few days, suffering from a bad cold.

The recent series of concerts given by the school and the Tuesday Afternoon Club was quite a financial as well as an artistic success, each body netting about $100.

The manual training department is now getting in some practical work in preparing the stage for the forthcoming performance of "Midsummer Night's Dream," and in numerous ways is proving its practicable value in doing work that should otherwise require the employment of a carpenter. The trigonometry class has undertaken the survey of the grounds and is laying out the athletic track, also a practical and useful work.

The boys' basket ball team played the Burbank boys Friday afternoon last on the Glendale grounds, and, in consideration of having defeated them on two previous occasions, allowed the visitors to score 33 to 21.

"MIDSUMMER NIGHT'S DREAM."

This beautiful creation of the greatest of all the dramatists will be presented to the people of Glendale and vicinity at the high school auditorium on January 17th and 18th, Friday and Saturday evenings, and at a Saturday matinee, by local high school talent, under the management of Miss Hicks, who has been presenting this and similar high-class productions at various other places throughout California. It is understood that the students who are to fill the different roles have been selected because of their special fitness for their parts, and there is every reason to believe that the play will be represented in a manner far beyond the average of performances by amateurs. One-half the proceeds will go to the student body for the commendable work they are carrying on. Aside from the benefit to the students, the indirect value at the presentation of a Shakespearean play and the interest the performance will revive in the work of the greatest writer in the English tongue is in itself considerable, and the people should give it hearty support.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

The regular meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon Club will be held on Tuesday afternoon, January 14th.

The afternoon will be devoted to civics and is in charge of the civics committee of the club, Mrs. R. W. Meeker, chairman; Mrs. J. T. Anderson, Mrs. J. W. Usilton, Mrs Frederick Baker and Mrs. E. D. Goode.

Mrs. C. Vernon Herron, chairman of civics for the District Federation of Woman's Clubs, will be speaker of the day. Violin solos will be rendered by Miss Felice Bethousky of New York, an eminent Russian violinist.

Mrs. C. Mushet, president of the District Federation of Woman's Clubs, will be present as a personal guest of Mrs. R. W. Meeker. Mrs. Catherine Pierce Wheat, chairman of civil service reform, will also be present.

The occasion will be guest day and members are urged to invite their friends who will be admitted upon presentation of a member's calling card.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance company is intending to establish an agency in Glendale to take care of the large number of policies which they have in this district.

ATTENTION, COMRADES!.

There will be a joint installation of N. P. Banks Post and W. R. C. at their hall in Tropico, Saturday, January 11, at 10 a. m. sharp. All comrades and their friends are cordially invited to be present.

GLENDALE, CAL., JANUARY. 10, 1913

The political circus at Sacramento is now in full swing, in other words, the legislature has convened.

If the present weather is the result of our having elected a Democratic president, what is going to happen after March 4th?

The Jewel City Press comes out in a new head for the new year and now appears as the "Glendale Press" with the "Jewel City" kept in the background, all of which is a distinct improvement.

Secretary Stimson in his annual report gives further evidence showing that the abolishing of the army canteen has resulted badly for the health and morals of the American soldier. General Wood in his report recommends that the canteen be restored. It remains now to be seen whether the opinion and recommendations of army officers who have the welfare of the service at heart and have full knowledge of the subject, will be put into effect, or if the ideas of well meaning sentimentalists who do not recognize conditions as they exist, will prevail.

We have received a number of holiday editions of our contemporaries, all of which are creditable to their enterprise. Without any desire to make invidious distinctions we must accord to the Times-Advocate of Escondido the credit for the most complete and comprehensive edition devoted to the interests of its section, which has come to our notice.

The Alhambra News has published a fine special edition descriptive of the attractions of our neighboring city, which is very complete and attractive typographically and otherwise.

DAMAGED ORANGES.

Southern California has been hit hard by the unprecedented steady cold spell of the past week, but it does not seem as if any other portion of the United States has escaped and the Florida citrus crop is probably seriously damaged as well as that of this section. While the reports are discouragingly pessimistic, it is probable that a larger percentage of the crop will be saved than is generally expected. Oranges will stand being frozen without deteriorating if the frost goes out gradually and the consistent cold of the daylight hours will aid in the recovery to some extent of the frozen fruit. The loss is a heavy one, however, for with all possible care exercised there will be many carloads of damaged fruit shipped and the buyers will refuse to purchase anything in the shape of oranges until it is demonstrated that the whole crop is not as bad as the frozen samples that will now be dumped upon the eastern market. The disaster to the crop will make more difficult the task of Pacific coast representatives, in Washington in their efforts to induce congress to let the tariff on citrus fruits alone when they get down to the work of revision.

PRESIDENT TAFT CONSISTENT.

President Taft in a speech at New York Saturday evening last declared himself in favor of arbitrating the question of Panama canal tolls. As the most prominent and powerful advocate of world peace he could not consistently take any other position. He has already declared his belief that the United States has the right to fix tolls and to favor its own coastwise vessels, but that this theory is disputed by Great Britain on the grounds of "discrimination" which is precluded by treaty, shows that there are two sides to the question and that it is therefore a fit subject for the action of an impartial tribunal.

We may expect our only expresident to attack this declaration of the president's violently, and he will voice the sentiment of many other Americans who take the ground that "We have paid for the canal and have a right to control it." But the question is not quite so simple as that statement implies and the president will be supported by many of the most influential men of the nation.

Col. Roosevelt and many others are in favor of arbitration when the cards are stacked in their favor and there is no doubt of the outcome, but the consistent advocate of the principle of international arbitration, must be willing to concede the possibility of our sometimes desiring those things which in the opinion of unbiased minds are not absolutely fair.

OWENS RIVER WATER.

The appearance of Mr. F. G. Henderson of the Los Angeles public service commission before the Glendale board of trustees, revives the question of the advisability of Glendale making an effort to obtain some of the Owens River water. Mr. Henderson made one or two points clear, among these is the fact that if the city of Glendale obtains the water in perpetuity, (the only plan that is worth considering), it will have to pay for it in as many as three different ways. First, there will be the proportionate cost of the water delivered at San Fernando which will be somewhere near $1500 an inch. Second, a rate of about 3½ cents for 100 cubic feet, and third, the cost of the distributing system. Then should any of the supply be taken from the high line running along the base of the foothills, there would be a fourth charge amounting to $12.50 an inch per year to compensate Los Angeles for the loss of power, that line tapping the aqueduct above the reservoir at San Fernando and that water not being available for the furnishing of power. There will doubtless be other charges, but these are sufficient for immediate contemplation. The trustees will probably give the people a chance in the near future to express their wishes in regard to the proposition of the public service commission. The people must decide the question for themselves, but at present there seems to be no very loud call for the water, particularly at a price which seems practically prohibitive.

THE MONEY TRUST.

A recent article under this head appeared in the New York Post, which seems to contradict by an array of statistics the popular belief that the money of the country is being more and more concentrated in New York City all the time. Some of the statements given are worth quoting. The author of the article is A. Platt Andrews, former assistant secretary of the treasury of the United States. Mr. Andrews says that there are in the United States 25,176 banks, equal to one for every 3788 of population, while ten years ago there was only one bank for every 7357 of population. In 1900 New York city's share of the banking resources of the country was 23.2 per cent. In 1912 this had fallen to 18.9 per cent. The comparison with the condition in foreign countries is startling. In New York the ten largest financial institutions hold only seven and a half per cent of the total deposits of the country. In Paris four financial concerns hold eighty-five per cent of the total deposits of France. In London in 1908 ten banks held sixty-three per cent of the total deposits of England. Instead of the tendency being towards concentration in the United States, Mr. Andrews shows that the contrary is true, the tendency being towards diffusion of capital and resources. The ratio of banks to population is constantly increasing, the banks increasing at a much more rapid ratio than the population. In 1900 the resources of the New York banks amounted to 23.2 per cent of the country's total, this has now decreased to 18.9 per cent. In New York there are three banks or trust companies with resources in excess of $200,000,000.

In Berlin there are five, in London ten and in Paris five such institutions. When it comes to a comparison of the number of members of the clearing houses of the large cities of the world, it is found that New York city has a membership of sixty-four institutions while that of London has 18 members only.

These figures seem to contradict the prevailing belief that money is concentrating in Wall street or that there exists a money trust in the United States.

AN APPEAL TO CIVIC SPIRIT.

No town or community can reach the highest development in any desirable direction without harmonious action on the part of the entire people in working for the general welfare. The NEWS believes in the high character of the people of Glendale and that they will compare favorably in a general way with those of any other town in Southern California. But in one particular they are behind some other places with fewer natural advantages, and that is in the way of maintaining an effective board of trade or chamber of commerce.

For some reason all efforts made heretofore to organize and keep going a public body of this kind have practically failed in this community. It is not creditable to an ambitious city of six thousand people that while church, social and fraternal organizations flourish in an unusual degree, an organization having for its purpose the promotion of the general welfare cannot be made a success. We do not believe however that it is impossible to maintain such a body, one that will be in no way sectional but will bend its energies to working for the betterment of business and social conditions in our city. All that is needed is for citizens generally to wake up to a realization of the fact that they owe a duty not only to church, lodge, club or family, but to the general community in which they reside and upon which many of them subsist. The upholding of such an organization dexolves principally upon the business men of the community, but the burden of it should not rest upon them alone; every citizen has an interest in the city's welfare and cannot conscientiously shirk his duty to the city and the community at large. And in this respect a public body of this nature should be broad enough to step beyond city boundaries when there is any public work that it can promote or any good in a general way that it can do. Glendale has two public organizations which in times past have accomplished some good work, but which have not recently been as active as they should be. This is not the fault of the few people who stand by them and do what is accomplished, but must be placed upon the community at large the members of which are apathetic in regard to affairs in which they have only a general and not a special interest. If both of these organizations can be kept at work in an effective manner without being influenced in any manner on sectional lines, very good. If both cannot work harmoniously and effectively then let us have but one and bend our energies towards making it a power for good.

HANDKERCHIEF SHOWER.

In honor of Miss Bernadine Wil[illegible] of Los Angeles, Miss Katherine Wells of West Broadway entertained with a handkerchief shower and bridge party at her home on Saturday afternoon. The afternoon was pleasantly passed playing bridge, after which delicious refreshments were served. The honor guest was the recipient of many beautiful handkerchiefs which were presented in a unique and amusing manner.

GLENDALE CITY'S DELINQUENT TAXES.

Treasurer G. B. Hoffman reports that approximately the delinquent tax list this year will foot up $3,200. As the assessment roll amounted to $37,000, the delinquency is about ten per cent. The delinquent list will be published in the NEWS next week. At present there is a charge of 15 per cent extra for delinquency; after publication there will be another charge of fifty cents for every piece of property appearing on the list.

GLENDALE ELKS CELEBRATE.

The local lodge of Elks is always doing something, and one of their most successful social affairs occurred on New Year's eve in their beautiful and spacious rooms in the Central block. The rooms were beautifully decorated, the banquet was all that the gastronomic demands of the occasion could suggest, and the dancing was enjoyed until the new year was well ushered in. Vocal solos were rendered during the evening by Mrs. H. P. MacMullin, accompanied by Mrs. R. W. Young. Miss Emma Pulliam played piano selections, and there were appropriate remarks at intervals.

San Francisco, Jan. 9.—"Trespassing on the railroad right-of-way is the greatets cause for railroad fatalities," according to the investigations of the safety committees on the ten divisions of the Southern Pacific. It has been found that more than fifty per cent of the accidents that occur on this road happen to trespassers.

The safety committees on the Southern Pacific were organized last June and since that time every accident of any description has been investigated by the committees and a remedy suggested to prevent a repetition.

Each of the ten divisions of the Southern Pacific has a safety committee that meets once a month to discuss the accidents of the past thirty days. A majority of these accidents are minor, such as smashed fingers and bruised limbs. "Safety first" is the watchword and the particular object of the meetings is to discuss methods of preevnting such accidents.

A Sioux's Strange Exploit.

The late Major Merrill of Lawrence was well known in military circles all over the country. When the G. A. R. encampment was held in Kansas City some years ago the soldiers of the east and those of the west vied with each other in telling stories of the war. After listening to some pretty tough yarns Major Merrill related the following and carried off the honors:

"You know, boys, that I served throughout the war in a Massachusetts light battery. During the fighting at Malvern Hill our ammunition was running low, and I was sent to the rear for powder.

"I had an open express wagon and four mules. I got about a ton and a half of loose powder into the wagon and started for the front. About halfway back to my battery a shell landed right in the middle of the powder, and, would you believe it, it burned up a bushel and a half before I could stamp out the fire!"—Boston Herald.

A Merchant, Not a Beggar.

An American lady in Rome bought some matches from a little match vender. They were wax matches in little decorated boxes. She handed the boy a five soldi piece and expected to have two in change, but the little fellow shrugged his shoulders and held the change tightly in his hand, with a begging expression on his face, signifying that he wished to have it given to him, whereupon a second American lady who was accompanying the first straightened herself, looked sternly at the boy and said, "Mercante, non mendicante!" (You are a merchant, not a beggar.) That was an appeal to the boy's self respect, and it so inspired him that he actually laughed and pressed the change upon his customer.—Christian Herald.

All Fortune Tellers.

"You are accused of swindling people on a fortune telling game," said the district attorney. "Can you really read the past?"

"No."

"Well, I can."

And he proceeded to read the culprit's rather stormy record.

"Can you read the future?" inquired the judge.

"No."

"Well, I can to some extent. At any rate, I can tell you where you'll be for the next two years."—Kansas City Journal.

Disraeli's Confidence.

Disraeli wrote a letter to his sister in 1833 in which he said: "Heard Macaulay's best speech, 'Shiel and Charles Grant.' Macaulay admirable, but, between ourselves, I could floor them all. This entres nous (sic), I was never more confident of anything than that I shall carry everything before me in the house. The time will come."

Then He Went.

"Ah," remarked Miss Weery, whom Mr. Stayfate had been boring with old conundrums, "that last one reminds me of the best thing going"—

"What's that?" he asked eagerly.

"A man who has stayed too long."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Forgot to Ask.

No man can be brave who thinks pain the greatest evil, nor temperate who considers pleasure the highest good.—Cicero.

Striving to Enlighten.

"Father," said the small boy, "what is 'facing the inevitable?'"

"Facing the inevitable, my son, is what you are advised to do when a system of taxation or business is unsatisfactory to you, but profitable to somebody else."—Washington Star.

Above the Average.

Mrs. Wayupp—How much sleep do I need, doctor? Doctor—Well, the average person needs about seven hours. Mrs. Wayupp—Then I shall take about fourteen. I consider that I am that much above the average.—Judge's Library.

Uses of the Plantain.

The plantain is one of those articles of food which are at once cheap and very health giving. Its cultivation is inexpensive, and swampy places are its natural home. Its uses are many. No part of the tree is without its benefit in the economy of life. Its leaves serve the purpose of plates and dishes. The ripe fruit is eaten with relish. The flower, the stem, the green fruit, are all constituents of the vegetable curry. Very fine cloth is manufactured from its fiber. In Bengal there are about thirty varieties of plantain trees, each one of which has a special use, physical, religious or medicinal. Not much skill or science is required in planting the tree, and once it has taken root it dies pretty hard. As a manure for fields not very favorable for the growth of other plants and trees the roots and withered leaves of the plantain are almost unsurpassable. It will grow anywhere, and it has been calculated that a modest Hindu family can jog on fairly well on the sale proceeds of the daily yield of a plaintain field covering quite a small area.

Coleridge as a Talker.

Coleridge was a marvelous talker. One morning when Hookham Frere also breakfasted with me Coleridge talked for three hours without intermission about poetry and so admirably that I wish every word he uttered had been written down. But sometimes his harangues were quite unintelligible not only to myself, but to others. Wordsworth and I called upon him one afternoon when he was in a lodging off Pall Mall. He talked uninterruptedly for about two hours, during which Wordsworth listened to him with profound attention, every now and then nodding his head as if in assent. On quitting the lodging I said to Wordsworth: "Well, for my part, I could not make head or tail of Coleridge's oration. Pray did you understand it?" "Not one syllable of it," was Wordsworth's reply.—"Famous Houses and Literary Shrines of London."

His Presentation Speech.

In Italy in the days when Queen Margherita was the lovely young bride of the then crown prince a little anecdote of her reception in one of the hill towns was current alike in society and in the press. The little boy who was to present the usual bouquet was the son of a distinguished literary man, and he had been taught a pretty poem of a few lines in graceful praise of the princess. But when the moment came to recite he stood mutely gazing at her too overcome to speak. After a moment in order to relieve the situation the princess smiled and held out her hand for the flowers. The little fellow held back for a moment, then, to the delight of the assembly, explained confidentially as he gave the flowers to her:

"There were verses, but you are so beautiful I can't remember them."

She That Passed.

She had on thin black silk, with white accentuations of some sort, loose and wavy in the body and flutterous in the skirt. May be her shoes were black and her stockings white, or vice versa. I couldn't swear which, and she was fairly long and fairly lithe, and when she went by she left a sense of having passed. We didn't see her face at all, but we were both looking after her as she turned the corner.

"Do you think," said I, "she is a married lady?"

He considered.

"I would not say that, but she did not somehow give the impression of a consistent spinster, did she?"

Not just that impression, no!—Life.

Sirens and Sponges.

The origin of the sirens, whose voices charmed men to their death, has been fancifully attributed to a species of great sponge that grows in the Cyrenian gulf. Sponge fishing is the chief industry of the Tripolitan and Tunisian coasts. Through a golden mist that rises when the sun is setting the giant sponges are seen like nymphs seated in the depths of the clear water.—Exchange.

How She Knew.

Mrs. Shopper—How do you like my new oriental rug? Mrs. Hopper (scanning the rug critically)—Are you sure it is oriental? Mrs. Shopper—Sure! Why, I stood by just as it was being finished by a Turk, or an Armenian, or a Persian—I don't know which—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

The Scrap Book

Loyalty of the Fan.

Declaring that it doesn't pay to overplay a good thing, Howard Camnitz tells a good yarn concerning an incident that occurred when he pitched for Dick Kinsella's Springfield club.

"We had a veteran pitcher," Camnitz says, "who hadn't been going very well. He lost a couple of games, and the management released him. That afternoon he was to take a 3:15 train for home and went to the bench to bid the boys goodby. Then with his grip in hand he started across the field for the clubhouse. The bleachers saw him going. He had been rather popular around there, so the fans stood up and shouted:

STARTED ACROSS THE FIELD AGAIN.

"'Good luck to you, old sport! Hope you get going again and come back to us!'

"This cheered the old boy, and he delayed his departure. 'If I can get them to do that tomorrow maybe the manager will relent and give me another chance,' he thought.

"So the next day, with grip in hand, he started across the field again. All of a sudden the bleacherites got up as one man and yelled:

"'You darned old stiff, haven't you gone yet?'" — Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Sorrow and I.

Have I known sorrow?
Yea, sorrow hath been my guest,
Hath walked beside in the morn,
The noontide and the quiet eve
And often lingered in my dreams
Till her pale face familiar seems.

Do I hate sorrow?
Nay; sorrow hath brought me strength
And calmness, and silent walking
In the shadow of her somber robes,
With trust in him who guides aright,
Hath led me into glorious light.
—Eliza M. H. Abbott.

A Literal Rendering.

A Scotch lady gave her servant very particular instructions regarding visitors, explaining that they were to be shown into the drawing room, and no doubt used the Scotticism, "Carry any ladies that call upstairs." On the arrival of the first visitors Donald was eager to show his strict attention to the mistress' orders. Two ladies came together, and Donald seized one in his arms and then said to the other, "Bide ye there till I come for ye," and, in spite of her struggles and remonstrances, ushered the terrified visitor into his mistress' presence in this unwonted fashion.—Life.

SEIZED ONE IN HIS ARMS.

A Substitute.

According to a Cincinnati banker, who lives at the Plaza hotel in New York, an English guest at that hostelry was recently presented with a bunch of handsome roses. He took them to his apartments and found no suitable receptacle. So he placed them on the table and wrapped them in a wet newspaper while waiting for the boy to answer the bell. When the youngster came the Briton said, "Bring me—aw—a rose jar." The boy saluted and went away. After a lapse of time he returned. "Beg pardon, sir," said he, "but what was it you wanted?" He didn't understand. "I want a rose jar—aw"— said the Englishman very distinctly. "A rose jar—aw. Quite so." The boy went away again. In due time he returned bearing something in his hand. "The bartender," said he, "thinks mebbe you've got mixed on the names of these American drinks. He says he thinks you meant a mint julep."

Too Late.

Sylvester Rawlings, the musical critic, became hungry the other day. And so he walked a long way to get to a restaurant in which he is acquainted. The waiter, Julius, is a particular friend of Mr. Rawlings. That gentleman has always cherished the belief that Julius has served him well. He thinks that from time to time Julius has won better food for him than is set forth upon the menu.

"Bring me two or three fried eggs, Julius," Mr. Rawlings ordered.

"Chess, sir, Mr. Rawlings," said Julius; "at once, sir."

And Julius hurried to the kitchen, walking in the duck footed haste of the perfect waiter. By and by he returned to Mr. Rawlings' side to place the silver and do other little chores about the table. Mr. Rawlings thought he would have a bit of fun with Julius.

"Ah, Julius," said Mr. Rawlings—"by the way, Julius, see that those eggs are fresh, Julius."

"Too late, sir," said the grave Julius. "They're on the fire now."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

Said bonds shall be issued in accordance with the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of California, entitled "An Act to provide a system of street improvement bonds to represent certain assessments for the cost of street work and improvement within municipalities, and also for the payment of such bonds," approved February 27, 1893, and of all acts supplementary thereto and amendatory thereof.

Sec. 3. The GLENDALE NEWS, a weekly newspaper of general circulation, published and circulated in said City of Glendale, is hereby designated as the newspaper in which this Resolution and notice of said street work inviting sealed proposals shall be published in the manner and form and by the persons required by law.

Sec. 4. The City Clerk of the City of Glendale is hereby directed to post conspicuously for five days on or near the Chamber Door of the Board of Trustees, in the manner and form required by law, a notice with Specifications, inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work; and said City Clerk is hereby directed to publish for two days in said newspaper hereby designated for that purpose, as aforesaid, in the manner and in the form required by law, a notice of said work inviting sealed proposals or bids for doing said work, and referring to the Specifications posted or on file.

Said notice shall require a certified check or bond, either, as prescribed by law, and for an amount not less than ten per cent of the aggregate of the proposal. Said City Clerk is also hereby directed to publish this Resolution for two days, in the manner required by law, in said newspaper designated for that purpose, as aforesaid.

Adopted and approved this 30th day of December, 1912.

NOTICE OF SALE OF TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH FRANCHISE BY THE CITY OF GLENDALE.

TO ALL WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Notice is hereby given that an application has been made to the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, California, for a telephone and telegraph franchise granting the right to construct and for a period of twenty-five years to maintain and operate a telephone and telegraph system for commercial and other purposes along streets, alleys, lanes, highways and other public places in the City of Glendale, County of Los Angeles, State of California, together with the appurtenant rights thereto, hereinafter mentioned; and that it is proposed by said Board of Trustees to offer for sale and grant to the highest bidder said franchise upon the following terms and conditions:

1st. The grantee of said franchise, its successors or assigns, shall in good faith, within four months from the granting thereof, begin the work of erecting and laying telegraph or telephone wires and the erection, construction and extension of the equipment for the business to be conducted under said franchise; and shall within three years thereafter complete the same, and all of the equipment of said system shall be built and constructed in a good and workmanlike manner and of good, substantial material, and the service furnished under said franchise shall be first class in every particular.

2nd. All poles shall be of such size, grade and material and shall be so located and erected as to conform to the instructions and regulations of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

3rd. All wires and cross-arms extending over or along any street, alley, lane, highway or public place shall be not less than twenty (20) ft.) feet above ground; and all of said wires and cross-arms used in said system shall be constructed, placed and maintained in conformity with the instructions and regulations of said Board of Trustees, or its successor; and all telephone lines constructed or operated under said franchise shall have a full metallic circuit.

4th. All conduits shall be placed not less than two (2 ft.) feet under ground, shall be located and maintained so as not to interfere with the traveling business in the use of such streets, alleys, lanes, highways and other public places, nor prevent the proper authorities of said City from improving, repairing, altering, sewering or using the same for any other purpose; and all of said conduits shall be so located, constructed and maintained as to conform to the instructions, rules and regulations of said Board of Trustees, or its successor, of the City of Glendale.

5th. In the event the said grantee, its successors or assigns, shall fail to comply with the instructions, laws and regulations of said Board of Trustees, or its successor, with respect to the location, erection and maintenance of said poles, wires and conduits, within the time prescribed by said Board of Trustees, after the service of written notice so to do upon said grantee, its successors or assigns, or upon the local manager thereof, then said Board of Trustees may immediately cause said poles, wires and conduits to be made to conform to its instructions, rules and regulations, at the cost and expense of said grantee, its successors or assigns, the said cost, together with the penalty of twenty-five (25%) per cent. thereon, the grantee, its successors or assigns, do, by the acceptance of this franchise, agree to pay, upon demand, to the City of Glendale.

6th. The Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale expressly reserve the right to require said grantee, its successors or assigns, to remove such poles, wires and other conductors from any portion, or portions, of said City and to place said wires in conduits, and under ground, and to place said poles in the alleys, when in its judgment the public welfare shall require the same; and such change as shall be ordered under this paragraph shall be done by the grantor, its successors or assigns, within such time as may be specified by said Board of Trustees.

7th. The grantee of said franchise, its successors or assigns, shall, immediately after the acceptance of this franchise, furnish to the City of Glendale eight (8) telephones, to be installed at places designated by said Board of Trustees and connected with the telephone system of said grantee, its successors or assigns, and shall change the location of the same when required so to do by said Board of Trustees; and shall maintain and keep the same in good repair and working order during the term of said franchise without expense or charge to the City of Glendale.

8th. The grantee, its successors or assigns, shall, during the term of said franchise, furnish and grant to the City of Glendale the free use of the necessary pins on the top cross-arm of each of the poles erected, or the necessary space in the conduits, maintained under said franchise, for the purpose of stringing or carrying such wires as shall be needed for the use of said City for police or fire alarm purposes.

9th. The grantee, its successors or assigns, shall not, without the consent of the City of Glendale evidenced by ordinance, sell, transfer, assign or lease said telephone, telegraph, district messenger or burglar alarm system, or any part thereof, or any of the rights or privileges authorized or granted in said franchise; shall not at any time enter into any combination, directly or indirectly, with any person, firm or corporation, fixing the rate to be charged for telephone, telegraph, district messenger or burglar alarm services, and no officer, emloyee or manager of the telephone, telegraph, district messenger and burglar alarm system, authorized under this franchise, shall at the same time be in charge of or in the employ of any other telephone, telegraph, district messenger or burglar alarm system, operating in said City.

10th. The grantee, its successors, or assigns, of said franchise shall, during the life thereof, pay to the City of Glendale, in lawful money of the United States, two (2%) per cent. of the gross annual receipts arising from the use, operation o. possession thereof; and this being a renewal of a right or franchise already in existence, the payment of said percentage shall commence with the granting thereof; and it shall be the duty of the grantee, its successors or assigns, to file with the City Clerk of the City of Glendale, at the expiration of one year from the date of the granting of said franchise, and at the expiration of each and every year thereafter during the term thereof, a statement, verified by the oath of the manager or presiding officer of said grantee, its successors or assigns, showing the total gross receipts arising from the use, operation or possession of said franchise during the year next preceding, and within ten (10) days thereafter said grantee, its successors or assigns, shall pay to the City Treasurer of the City of Glendale such sum as may then be due by reason of said percentage; provided that any neglect, omission or refusal by said grantee, its successors or assigns, to file said verified statement, or to pay said percentage at the time and in the manner hereinbefore provided, shall in itself work a forfeiture of said franchise and all of the rights of said grantee, its successors or assigns, and said City of Glendale, through its proper officers, agent, or special employees for that purpose, shall have the right to examine the books of said grantee, its successors or assigns, for the purpose of ascertaining the amount that may be due said City on account of said franchise.

11th. In granting said franchise, the City of Glendale reserves the right to fix the rates to be charged for toll and other services rendered by the grantee, its successors or assigns, under said franchise, and the same shall be fixed by the Board of Trustees of said City of Glendale; provided that the grantee, its successors or assigns, shall, during the life of said franchise, furnish, without extra, additional or long distance charge, all patrons and subscribers in the said City of Glendale service connections over and through every other line or lines of the same or any other telephone or telegraph system owned, operated or controlled by said grantee within the corporate limits of the City of Los Angeles, California.

12th. Said franchise shall not be exclusive, but the rights and privileges, or any of them, may be granted by the City of Glendale, in part or in whole, to any other person, firm or corporation.

13th. That each and all of the terms, conditions and provisions of the said franchise are to be kept and performed by said grantee, its successors or assigns, and shall be declared therein to be conditions precedent to the continuation of the rights and privileges therein granted by said City, and the failure by the grantee, its successors or assigns, to keep and perform any one of said terms, provisions or conditions by it to be kept and performed as hereinbefore set forth, and a continuation of such failure after a notice of ten (10) days, in writing, given, to-wit, by said City of Glendale, through its proper officers, shall ipso facto terminate said franchise, and the same, with all rights and privileges therein granted, shall be forfeited, and said franchise shall thereupon be null and void.

Notice is hereby given that sealed bids in writing will be received at the office of said Board of Trustees for said franchise up to 8 o'clock p. m. on the 10th day of February, 1913.

That the bids received will be opened at that time; that all bids must be for the payment of a stated sum in gold coin of the United States; and that the franchise will be struck off, sold and awarded to the person, firm or corporation who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, provided, only, that at the time of opening said bids any responsible person, firm or corporation, present or represented, may bid for said franchise a sum not less than ten per cent. above the highest sealed bid therefor, and that said bid so made may be raised not less than ten per cent. by any other responsible bidder, and said bidding may so continue until finally said franchise shall be struck off, sold and awarded by said Board of Trustees to the highest bidder therefor in gold coin of the United States, and provided further that the Board of Trustees reserve the right to reject any and all bids.

Each sealed bid must be accompanied with cash, or a certified check, payable to the City Treasurer of said City, for the full amount of said bid, and no sealed bid will be considered unless said cash or check is enclosed therewith; and the successful bidder must deposit at least ten per cent. of the amount of his bid with the Clerk of said City before said franchise will be struck off to him, and if he shall fail to make such deposit immediately, his bid will not be received and will be considered as void, and said franchise will then and there be offered for sale to the bidder who shall make the highest cash bid therefor, subject to the same conditions as to deposit as above mentioned. Said procedure will be had until said franchise is struck off, sold and awarded to a bidder who shall make the necessary deposit of at least ten per cent. of the amount of his bid, as herein provided. Said successful bidder shall deposit with the City Clerk within twenty-four hours after the acceptance of his bid the remaining ninety per cent. of the amount thereof, and in case he or it fails to do so, then the said deposit theretofore made will be forfeited, and the award of said franchise will be void, and said franchise will then and there, by said Board of Trustees, be again offered for sale to the highest bidder therefor, in the same manner and under the same restrictions as hereinbefore provided, and in case said bidder fails to deposit with the City Clerk the remaining ninety per cent. of his bid within twenty-four hours after its acceptance, the award to him of said franchise will be set aside, and the deposit theretofore made by him will be forfeited, and no further proceedings for the sale of said franchise will be had until the same shall be re-advertised for sale.

Notice is also hereby given that the successful bidder for said franchise must, within five days after said franchise is awarded to him or it, file with said Board of Trustees a bond running to said City in the penal sum of One Thousand Dollars, with at least two good and sufficient sureties, to be approved by said Board of Trustees, conditioned that said bidder shall well and truly observe, fulfill and perform each and every term and condition of said franchise, and that in case of any breach of condition of said bond, the whole amount of the penal sum therein named shall be taken and deemed to be liquidated damages, and shall be recoverable from the principal and sureties upon said bond. If said bond be not so filed, the award of said franchise will be set aside, and any money paid therefor will be forfeited.

By order of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale.

G. B. WOODBERRY,
City Clerk and Ex-Officio Clerk of the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale, County of Los Angeles, State of California.

Golden Text—God created man in his own image. Gen. 1:27.

(1.) Verses 26-27—What do you understand by the statement that God created man in his own image?

(2.) What would you say is the proof that man is like God?

(3.) Chap. ii:4-6—How long did it probably take God to make the earth and the heavens?

(4.) Wherein did God show great wisdom in making vegetation upon the earth before man was created?

(5.) Verse 7—What is the positive proof that the body of man is made of the same material as "the dust of the ground"?

(6.) When the breath of God is the seed or the germ of man's inner life, what would we naturally infer would be the nature of that life?

(7.) In how many respects does man essentially differ from other animals?

(8.) What is your conception, from this story interpreted by science, of the method God took to make man?

(9.) According to the analogy of nature, which way does God make living things—the seed first, or the full life: the egg first, or the chicken?

(10.) What, if any, practical difference does it make to us whether God made man all at once, as a finished product, or whether he took a million years to make him?

(11.) Verses 8-15—From what original source do we obtain all our wealth?

(12.) What was the first industry of man, and what is the most important industry today, and why is it so?

(13.) According to verse nine, what two main objects did God have in making trees?

(14.) In what way have rivers always been a blessing to man?

(15.) What would have been the inconvenience to man if God had not put minerals in the earth?

(16.) Verses 16-17—Why was it necessary to put man, in his innocency, under law?

(17.) What would you say was "The tree of knowledge of good and evil," of which Adam was forbidden to eat?

(18.) Verses 18-20—Why is if not good for a man to remain unmarried?

(19.) Why did God consult Adam concerning the names to be given to the living creatures which God had created?

(20.) Verses 21-25—Why should a man prefer his wife even to his father and mother?

(21.) In how many respects if any besides sex does a woman differ from a man?

(22.) Ps. viii—What is it in man which enables him to control all animals?

(23.) How much is a man lower than the angels? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(24.) Which is the more wonderful and why, the heavens "the moon and the stars," or a man?

(25.) What are some of the wonderful things which man can do?

Lesson for Sunday, Jan. 19, 1913. Man's First Sin. Gen. iii.

Monster Ant Hills.

West African ant hills are veritable giants, frequently standing forty feet high. These ant hills are shaped something like a sugar loaf and are divided inside into hundreds of tiny rooms. They have, needless to say, myriads of inhabitants, and these are all busy making roads, gathering food and watching over the eggs and youngsters. The natives are afraid to touch these hills, except from a distance, with firearms. The ants often make their strongholds around trees, and they are built very solidly, with sides sometimes twenty inches thick. The inside is hollow, and at the top there is a sort of attic. The "royal cell," where the queen ant lives, is always found on the ground floor. This good lady is a prisoner, but is carefully fed by her busy subjects; the eggs she lays being immediately carried away and deposited in "rooms" set apart for the purpose.—Wide World.

Your Own Body.

Think deliberately of the house you live in—your body. Make up your mind not to abuse it. Eat nothing that will hurt it; wear nothing that distorts or pains it. Do not overload it with victuals or drink or work. Give yourself regular and abundant sleep. Keep your body warmly clad. At the first signal of danger from any of the thousand enemies that surround you defend yourself. Do not take cold; guard yourself against it. If you feel the first symptoms, give yourself heroic treatment. Get into a fine glow of heat by exercise. This is the only body you will ever have in this world. A large share of pleasure and pain of life will come through the use you make of it. Study deeply and diligently the structure of it, the laws that should govern it, the pains and penalties that will surely follow a violation of every law of life or health.

The Power of Water.

A sure thing wager sprung on curious visitors by the engineers of some of the big water power projects of the far west is that a 200 pound man, swinging a four pound ax with all his might, cannot make a dent in the water as it emerges from the nozzle at the power house. Burying an ax in a stream of water looks like child's play, and the average 200 pound visitor is likely to bite. He invariably loses. So great is the velocity of the water emerging from the nozzle in these up to date power plants that an ax, no matter how keen an edge it may have, is whirled from the hands of the strenuous axman at the instant of contact with the water. The water travels at a pressure of about 500 pounds to the square inch in many instances, and no power on earth can turn it off at the nozzle once it gains momentum. It has the same effect on one's fingers as a rough emery wheel and will shave a plank with the nicety of a razor edged plane. When, as frequently happens, it is necessary to shut down a power plant operated by one of these streams the nozzle is deflected by means of a powerful set of gears.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Skilled Archers.

In the days when buffalo ran in vast herds on the western plains there were Indians who, while riding at a gallop, could send an arrow through a buffalo's body. Remarkable as this feat was, yet it did not equal that reached by the archers of ancient times. It is of record that the MacRaes of Gairlock, Scotland, were such skillful archers that they could hit a mat at a distance of 500 yards. In 1794 the Turkish ambassador at London shot an arrow in a field near that capital 415 yards against the wind and 482 yards with the wind. This was the greatest performance of modern days, but a pillar standing on a plain near Constantinople recorded shots ranging up to 800 yards. Sir Robert Ainslie, British ambassador to the sublime porte, records that in 1798 he was present when the sultan shot an arrow 972 yards.—Field and Farm.

Breaking It Gently.

On one occasion when a public reception was given to Mr. Gladstone a particularly obsequious old gentleman was introduced to him and forthwith commenced flattering him to such an extent that the late premier grew weary of him, so bidding the man good day he settled down heavily into the nearest chair. The bore, instead of passing on, lingered near and seemed to have something still in his mind, though he looked blissful. Mr. Gladstone observed this and said, not sweetly, "May I ask you, sir, if you want anything more of me?"

"Oh—oh, no," said the man, smirking, "only perhaps I may be permitted to remark that I am proud to say that my hat is having the inestimable honor to occupy the same chair with W. E. Gladstone."—London Telegraph.

Nature as a Cook Stove.

Maori housewives of New Zealand have discovered, like their more civilized sisters, the value of the fireless cooker as a labor saver, but their cookers have neither to be made nor ordered. Nature furnishes them in inexhaustible supply, for they are nothing more nor less than the small geysers of the region. Using a box, a basket or a bag, depending on what they are cooking, the women sink the receptacle in the moist mud over a steam hole, which makes an admirable oven. They not only cook their meals, but do their washing in these baby volcanoes.

Seemed Likely.

The young man had gone to the heiress' father—always a ticklish job—but he took his courage with an iron grip.

"Sir," he blurted out, "I want to ask you for your daughter's hand."

The old man, not in the lest disconcerted, said:

"Which hand? The one she signs checks with, I suppose?"—London Stray Stories.

Asking For It.

Intrepid Widow—Speaking of conundrums, Mr. Slocum, here's a good one. Why is the letter "d" like a wedding ring? Procrastinating Bachelor—Oh, I'm no good at conundrums. Intrepid Widow—You give it up? Why, because 'we' can't be 'wed' without it.—Pearson's.

Encouragement.

"That girl has rejected me three times," confided the disconsolate youth.

"Well," replied Miss Cayenne, "you should feel encouraged. A girl who will listen to three proposals from the same man must think something of him."—Washington Star.

Correct Dress.

"You are perfectly right, Bildad, when you say that it is correct for royalties to wear royal gowns at public functions, but for a knight of the bath to wear either a bath robe of a knight gown at court would hardly be de wrigle.—Judge's Library.

Hard Cash.

Mr. T. Wadd—You always speak of money as "hard cash." Mrs. T. Wadd—All I ever get comes from you, and it comes as hard as anything I know of.—Exchange.

Save a Little.

It is good to be helpful and friendly, but don't give yourself to be melted into candle grease for the benefit of the tallow trade.—George Eliot.

You may depend upon it that he is a good man whose intimate friends are all good.—Lavater.

DUTY ON HIS TOBACCO.

The Baron Evaded Paying It, and Yet He Wasn't Happy.

Dr. Wekerle, Hungarian minister of finance, had a country seat at Pilis, near Budapest, where he was in the habit of spending his Sundays. His only piece of luggage on these occasions consisted of a small hand bag, which never contained anything but the regulation bottle, four handkerchiefs and a traveling cap.

Returning one Monday to the capital, the minister met a friend, a gentleman named Von Fischer, who was carrying a bag exactly the counterpart of his excellency's valise. Baron von Fischer smiled a thoughtful smile as he noticed the similarity of the bags and whispered to the minister: "My bag is filled with smuggled Turkish tobacco. You will be good enough to shield me against the custom house spies, I hope."

The minister looked serious. "I will do nothing of the kind," he said, and when the two gentlemen arrived at the Pest depot the minister beckoned to a custom house official and said, "My friend desires to pay duty on a lot of Turkish tobacco he has in his bag."

"His excellency is joking," cried the baron, who meanwhile had changed bags with the minister. "See, I have no contraband articles about me," and he opened the bag in proof of what he said.

The minister of finance looked perplexed for a moment, then he resolutely grabbed his friend's bag and said to the official: "Well, assess me for the tobacco, but be quick about it. I have no time to lose." The official acted on the suggestion, and the minister paid 3 florins and 50 pfennigs into the treasury of his own department. Then he jumped into the carriage and drove off, shouting out his thanks to the baron for his present of twenty pounds of excellent tobacco.—Argonaut.

Quite English.

George Broadhurst tells of an English shopkeeper, the soul of amiability. "You are an American, sir, are you not?" he asked. "Yes," said Mr. Broadhurst to save lengthy explanations. "Now, I have a conundrum that I always save for the Americans, because they say they are so deuced clever. When you put a billiard ball on the table, what is the first thing it does?" "Why, I don't know," said Mr. Broadhurst uncertainly. "Perhaps it waits for its cue." "Ah, that's very clever, very clever," countered the little Englishman, "but not so good as the real answer. The first thing it does is to look round."

Unintentional Frankness.

The eldest sons of British peers bear what are known as "courtesy" titles when the head of the house has two or three and can spare an inferior one to his son.

Earl Winterton, a young English politician, has a keen sense of humor and can enjoy a joke on himself. He likes to tell the following:

Before succeeding to the earldom he was known as Lord Turnour, under which name he figured in some noisy scenes in the house. A few months after his father's death he was thus addressed at dinner by a fellow guest:

"I ought to know you, but I can't recall your name."

"Oh, I am Earl Winterton," was the reply.

"Of course, of course," said the other. "Why, I have been confounding you all the evening with that ass Turnour!"

A High Authority.

Curran, the famous Irish advocate, was one day engaged in a case in which he had as junior a remarkably tall and slender barrister who had originally intended to take holy orders. On the judge observing that the case under discussion involved a question of ecclesiastical law, Curran said, "I refer your lordship to a high authority behind me, who was once intended for the church, though in my opinion he was fitter for the steeple!"

"A HIGH AUTHORITY BEHIND ME."

Ben Butler's Retort.

An old lawyer in speaking about General Ben Butler said: "Ben Butler was a terror and a torment to the judges. On one occasion Judge Sanger, having been baffled and badgered out of all patience, petulantly asked, 'What does the counsel suppose I am on this bench for?' Scratching his head a minute, Butler replied, 'Well, I confess your honor's got me there.'"

Modern Hospitals.

"The modern hospital is a sanitary workshop. Until a few years ago it was a place where sick people could be kept until they recovered. Nowadays it is a workshop where they are made well," says Dr. W. B. Russ in the Journal of the American Medical Association. "Today our units are the same, but our construction is steel and concrete. We have no carpets and dust catchers. Our furniture is of white enamel. We have forsaken the old time heat registers, with their dust and soot. We have steam radiators that give nothing into the sickroom. We have screens on our windows to deny admission to the fly and the mosquito and other insects that may carry the organisms of disease. We know that sunlight is one of God's ways of curing disease and that fresh air is one of the greatest physicians in the world, so that we build our modern hospitals with windows facing to the sun, with air space measured in terms of cubic feet for the sick."

He Was Old Enough.

The late Homer Lea, who did so much to organize the army of the Chinese republic, was a man who saw little actual service in spite of his title of "general." He was fond of relating the story of his first military command, by which he received this prefix. He was then a young man whose only claim to military distinction was a book knowledge of the theory of warfare. It was said of him that he knew every detail of all Napoleon's battles. Upon his arrival in China he went to the taotai of Canton and asked that he be made general of all the troops in the province. Lea's youth and his figure—for he was a hunchback—did not combine to make much of an impression upon the astute old Chinese official. "How old are you?" he asked. "The same age as Napoleon when he won the battle of Austerlitz," answered Lea. He got the job.—New York Tribune.

An Optical Illusion.

An interesting optical experiment may be made with the ordinary incandescent light. Gaze steadily at the light for a few seconds, then suddenly extinguish it. The experiment is best performed in a very dark room. In about half a minute you will see the perfect image of the light, with the fine strands of wire plainly visible. It will be red at first. In a few minutes it will turn purple and then a bright blue. Later it will apparently move to the right. As you turn your gaze it will continue moving to the right. If you keep your gaze fixed, it will come back. It is surprising how long the illusion will last. It will be seen for fully five minutes, perhaps longer, and if you turn on the light and look away from it you will see the old image for several minutes, though more faintly than in the darkness.

Turkish Ways.

Turkey's government used at one time to make foreign envoys in Constantinople conform in some degree to Mussulman customs. They were not allowed to appear in public accompanied by their wives, as this practice might have caused heartburnings among the native women, who could never hope to be treated on an equality with their husbands. Endeavors were also made at one time to extend Mohammed's prohibition of wine to foreign diplomats. This was found impossible, but until the end of the eighteenth century all the wine consigned to them had to be conveyed from the harbor in the dead of the night, so that the faithful should not be contaminated by seeing the accursed liquor.—Chicago News.

Fate.

A strange comedy and tragedy were woven into the lives of Ibsen and Bjornson. As young men they were great friends; then politics flung them apart; they quarreled and never met for years and years. Strange fate brought the children of these two great writers together, and Bjornson's daughter married Ibsen's only child. The fathers met after a quarter of a century of separation at the wedding of their children.

Better So.

"You think it better to have foreign waiters?"

"Yes," replied the thick skinned man. "I realized it this evening. When I gave the waiter a lead half dollar he thanked me in English and later expressed his opinion in a language which, fortunately, I could not understand."—Washington Star.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEETING

Holds Open Session Tonight—Attractive Program and Get-together Opportunity

The Chamber of Commerce offers to the people of Glendale this (Friday) evening an entertaining program and a chance to "Get together" which the people should avail themselves of by turning out in large numbers, so as to demonstrate that Glendale is not so divided up into lodges, social clubs, church organizations, etc., to such an extent that its people have not time to turn out at least once a month to a meeting planned for the general good. Every man in the city should make a special effort to be present, to join the organization if he does not already belong and to be a real "booster" willing to give up some of his time for the general welfare. The meeting will be held at Masonic Hall.

N. P. BANKS POST AND CORPS JOINT INSTALLATION.

These two patriotic organizations hold their annual joint-installation at G.A.R. hall tomorrow (Saturday). This occasion is always in the nature of a love feast. The ladies prepare the dinner which the men gallantly aid in disposing of and there is a program of music and speeches to be enjoyed by all. This year a new and attractive number is added by adjournment to the Star Theater at Tropico where there will be an exhibition of motion pictures, the two special features of which will be a representation of "Lincoln's Clemency" and the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation. The ladies in charge of the affair extend an invitation to friends of the post and corps to attend.

ACCIDENT IN MOTION PICTURES.

During the past week Mr. Paul Hurst of the Kalem Company fell from his horse and broke his wrist in two places, during the progress of a motion picture. Mr. Hurst plays character parts and heavy leads and will be much missed as the Glendale Kalem Company is enjoying a particularly busy season. Owing to the bad weather in the eastern states the Kalem company is depending entirely on the western states for new pictures.

DIED

Died suddenly, January 8, 1913, of hemorrhage of the brain, Rachel Morris Booth, formerly of Chicago. Funeral service at the residence of her cousin, Mrs. A. B. Merrison, 1327 W. Sixth street, Glendale, Saturday morning at 11 o'clock.

Mrs. Selma Watanen, mother of Mr. Eugene Murman, and Miss Edith Watanen, died after a short illness at the Glendale Sanitarium, January 7, 1913. She was a resident of this city for four years, having made her home at 1463 W. Third street. The funeral will take place next Saturday, January 11th, at 1 p. m. from the chapel of Pulliam Undertaking Co. 919 W. Broadway.

DEATH OF D. A. FILGER.

Mr. David Filger, who built the Filger block on Broadway, and has spent the last several winters in Glendale, making his home while here with his niece, Mrs. R. A. Petersen, on Adams street, died at her residence Saturday last. He had come to Glendale about six weeks ago, accompanied by his niece, Miss Dora Filger, from his Illinois home, and had been seriously ill ever since. Mr. Filger was eighty years of age, a well-known citizen of Illinois, and had led a busy and useful life. Mr. and Mrs. Petersen and Miss Filger went East on Sunday with the body.

Armor J. Hallahan, the son-in-law of F. J. Willett, died a week ago Saturday of tuberculosis at Chandler, Ariz. He leaves a young wife and baby to mourn his loss. The body was taken East for burial by his mother, who was with him during the last few weeks, and will be placed in the family burying ground at Wing, Illinois.

Mr. Hallahan was a member of the Pocatello Moose of Pocatello, Idaho and the Tecumseh tribe of Redman of Davenport, Iowa.

Mrs. Hallahan will remain at her father's home at 1010 Lomita avenue. Her many friends extend to her their sincere and kindly sympathy through her hour of trial.

A NEW YEAR'S WEDDING.

A happy home wedding was that which united Miss Mildred Burnell Martin of Los Angeles and Mr. David Livingstone Levy of San Francisco in marriage on New Year's Eve. The ceremony was solemnized at six o'clock in the evening at the home of the bride's sister and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Tatum of 1300 N. Maryland avenue, Glendale. Rabbi Fried of Sacramento officiated and only members of the immediate families were present. Dinner was served at seven o'clock. Beautiful pale pink rose buds and ferns banked the center of the table. Hand-painted place cards in wild roses marked the covers laid for Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Levy, and Mr. Lawrence Levy of San Francisco, Mr. Fried of Sacramento, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Martin of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee Martin, Miss Winifred Martin and Miss Virginia Martin of Inglewood, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Tatum, Master Edward H. Tatum, Jr., and the bride and groom.

After a brief wedding journey, Mr and Mrs. Levy will make their home in San Francisco.

The bride is a graduate of L. A. high school and of the University of California in the class of 1910. She is a member of the Chi Omega Sorority.

Mr. Levy graduated from the University of California in 1908 and from Hasting's Law School in 1910. He is well-known among San Francisco lawyers.

THE WEATHER.

An importation of wintry weather from the north pole or Kalamazoo get to Southern California a few days ago and persists in staying with us. There is no use denying the fact that the orange and lemon growers have been greatly damaged. But we believe that it will be found after it is all over that there are still a good many good oranges in Southern California. The weather has been so persistently cold that the fruit has had a chance to thaw out gradually, and unless the temperature should rise very suddenly and thaw the frozen fruit out quickly, probably 40 per cent of it will come out all right. It is the longest unbroken spell of severe cold weather of which there is any record in the last thirty years in Southern California. The mercury has fallen as low as 24 degrees on low ground. The probability is that many orange and lemon trees that have only been cut one or two years are killed. Older trees will suffer no permanent injury.

Mrs. H. L. Legrande of West Third street is convalescing after a long and severe illness.

The Elaineig held an especially pleasant meeting on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Anna Woodberry on Glendale avenue. Five hundred occupied the fore part of the evening. Prizes were won by Miss Myrtle Pulliam and Mr. Harold McElroy, following which a delicious light supper was served. The remainder of the evening was spent around the open fireplace toasting marshmallows. During the time a short business session was held.

Dr. W. J. Jeter, of Los Angeles, is assisting Dr. T. C. Young in care of his practice. Dr. Jeter is no stranger to us, having been a resident of Glendale for some time. He first came here about three years ago.

On Tuesday afternoon the teachers of the Fourth street school gave a surprise tea party in honor of the birthday anniversary of their principal, Mrs. M. O. Ryan. Dainty decorations were carried out in pale pink.

A jolly New Year's picnic was enjoyed at Verdugo Park by Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant and family, Mr. and Mrs. E. U. Emery and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Lusby and family and Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ferguson and family.

Dr. and Mrs. Kinnan and son, Donald, and Miss Ella Smith of Marshalltown, Iowa, were recent houseguests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Bryant of Jackson street. They have arrived in Glendale to spend the remainder of the winter.

The gentlemen members of the Elaineig will entertain in honor of the ladies with a dancing party on Thursday evening. Invitations will be issued to one hundred guests. An artistic decorative scheme will make the evening a pretty affair.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts of Seventh street entertained with a prettily planned dinner party on Saturday evening. Guests were Prof. and Mrs. A. W. Tower of Damasco Court and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McFadden of Seventh street.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Robinson of West Sixth street, who are now in Missouri attending to some business, are wishing for a speedy termination of their affairs there, that they may return to the land of sunshine. Mr. Robinson expects to build on his other lots in Glendale when he returns.

Mr. Dean Collins of Portland, Ore., was entertained at luncheon on Saturday by his cousins, Mrs. M. O. Ryan and Miss Evelyn Ryan of Fifth street. Mr. Collins, who is a member of the staff of Portland, Oregonian, arrived, in Los Angeles on the special train of the Royal Rosarians, of which he is a member, who were touring the cities of California for the purpose of interesting their administrations in confining the tourist travel of the west to the west: Washington, Oregon and California. They were entertained in San Francisco where they planted a choice rose bush for every year Oregon has been a state, on the fair grounds of the exhibition of 1915. They arirved in Los Angeles in time to march in the Pasadena Rose Tournament. Friday they were entertained at luncheon at La Ramada. While in San Diego they also planted a rose garden on the fair grounds of the exhibition that city will hold in 1915.

TROPICO

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Retts of Brand boulevard entertained recently Mr. and Mrs. Seahorn of Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Kent of Long Beach have taken possession of a little cottage on Palmer avenue, between Brand boulevard and Central avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fishel, who enjoyed a visit during the Christmas holidays with Mr. Fishel's parents on West Park avenue, have returned to this place within a few weeks and to make their home here permanently.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Charles of Topeka, Kansas, and Mrs. Cora S. Hancock of Chicago, are enjoying a stay of several days with Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey, Jr., of Tropico avenue.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Tropico Methodist church held a business and social meeting in the church Tuesday afternoon. Considerable business of interest to the society was transacted and altogether the hours were very much enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. George Claver and family, who have disposed of their home on Seventh street, Glendale, have decided to move to this place in a few days. They will take possession of the home owned by John Kirkham, Jr., on Central avenue, just south of Palmer avenue.

W .C. Seal, being the highest bidder for the estate of Mrs. Martha Winne, on Cypress street just east of the Brand boulevard, has been awarded the property for $250. The sale was made by W. B. Pratt, executor of the estate, and has been confirmed by the probate court.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. LaFontaine have just taken possession of a pretty bungalow at the corner of Mira Loma and Gardena avenues in the Richardson tract, where they will make their permanent home. Mr. LaFontaine is employed with the Bronson Desk company in Los Angeles.

An improvement which has been needed for the past several months, namely, the repairing of San Fernando road at the point where the thoroughfare intersects with the Pacific line, has been effected by the railway company. This was not done before it was needed, however, as that section of the good roads system was almost impassable before the repair act took place.

Mrs. H. E. Foote, and son Lowell, of State Center, Kansas, and Miss Alice Rigg of Salt Lake, Utah, were guests several days the latter part of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marple on Boynton street. Miss Rigg left for her home in Salt Lake Sunday morning, while Mrs. Foote and son will leave for their eastern home in about a week.

Marshal Gould is running his motorcycle overtime trying to run down the boy or boys who are taking delight in breaking the street lights which were installed recently by the Pacific Light and Power company at this place. When they are caught, which will doubtless be the case now that "Billy" is after them, the miscreants will doubtless be put "through the mill," as the saying goes.

The finishing touches are being administered to the Payne block, being erected on San Fernando road just north of the Tropico Mercantile company's store. It is rumored that the store rooms on the main floor have been rented and that the apartments on the second floor are "going fast." This business district is slowly but surely coming into its own. The foundations have also been laid for the new block just about a hundred feet north of the Payne block.

Irving H. Oliver is one of the many entrants at the poultry show that will be held in Fiesta Park next week. Mr. Oliver has entered a number of his Silver Campines, with which he has had so much success in past shows. At a show held at San Diego recently, Mr. Oliver's birds took seven firsts, one second and four special ribbons for the best-shaped fowl. Also in competition with four other breeds he captured two loving cups for highest scoring male and female. The people of this place feel that with such an able representative in the contest the town will doubtless get its share of the laurels. By the way, Mr. Oliver is a member of the board of trustees of this city.

WITH THE TROPICO TRUSTEES.

The following resolution has been adopted by the board of trustees of this place:

"Section 1. That any corporation, company or person supplying water to the city of Tropico, or to the inhabitants thereof, is hereby required to furnish to the board of trustees of said city of Tropico, in the month of January, 1913, a detailed statement verified by the oath of the president and secretary of such corporation or company, or of such person as the case may be, showing the name of each water rate payer, his or her place of residence, and the amount paid for water by each of such water rate payers, during the year preceding the date of such statement, and also showing all revenue derived from all sources, and an itemized statement of expenditures made for supplying water during said time.

"Section 2. Accompanying the first statement as prescribed in Section 1 hereof, every such corporation, company or person shall furnish a detailed statement verified in like manner as the statement mentioned in Section 1 hereof, showing the amount of money actually expended annually. Since commencing business in the purchase, construction and maintenance, respectively, of the property necessary to the carrying on of its business and also the gross cash receipts annually, for the same period from all sources."

The residents of the section on Acacia avenue are protesting against accepting the street work on the ground that the grade is not correct and that at the foot of Mariposa street there is a depression in the street which catches the storm water from Glendale avenue and other sections. Mr. Lynch, city engineer, explains the matter as follows: "The depression complained of is natural and not artificial and arose from taking the street across a natural draw from above Ninth street in Glendale, southward across Moore avenue into the Barranca at the base of the Tropico hills. The depression was left to avoid the alternative of an expensive fill and so putting the residences of Mr. Stein and Mrs. Nicholson in a hole."

Peter L. Ferry has been awarded the contract for the improvement of Park avenue, the work to be done at a cost of $1.35 per front foot.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS TAKES PLACE.

What proved to be one of the most enjoyable events of its kind ever held at this place was the installation of officers held in the Knights of Pythias hall on San Fernando road, Tuesday evening by the Knights of Pythias lodge and the Pythian sisters. For the affair the hall was decorated with many flowers and colors of the orders. The first few minutes of the evening was taken up with business meetings of the societies, after which the installation services were held, the Knights being given the honors of having the floor first.

The pleasing feature of the evening was the banquet which was held in the banquet room immediately after the installation service. If there is one time when the K. of P.'s shine it is when they are at the festive board, and at this occasion they certainly did themselves proud. With F. H. Davis as toastmaster, there was not a dull moment during the entire proceedings. Each of the retiring officers was called upon for a toast, to which an able response was made. The good will that prevailed at this event, as it has done at every affair held by this lodge, was one of the finest features of the evening. There was no hard feeling. Every one knew every one else and so the evening passed very enjoyably.

The installing officers during the evening were, Knights, Mr. Lampert, grand district deputy of Sacramento, assisted by W. J. Hibbert, grand prelate, and F. H. Davis. Pythian sisters, M. Elma Nordyke of the Puritan Temple of Los Angeles, assisted by Mrs. Maude Sullivan, grand senior, and Miss Ethel Nordyke of Los Angeles. Mrs. Jennie Rice, past chief, was presented during the evening with a jewel of the order.

The officers installed during the evening by the Knights were: C.C., T. L. Gillispie; V.C., H. G. Van Meter; P. Wayne Frank; M. of W., Harry L. McAdams; M. of F., Jay Ledger; M. of E., Guy Maxwell; marshal at arms, Ralph Robinson; inner guard, Charles Jennings; outer guard, C. C. Nicholson; trustees, A. M. Watson, Lee Bancroft and George Merrill. The Pythian sisters installed officers as follows: Past chief, Mrs. Jennie Rice; most excellent chief, Hattie Tiffany; excellent senior, Carabel Van Meter; excellent junior, Florence Cook; manager, Mary College; protector, Anna Merick; outer guard, Lina Hammock; mistress of finance, Susie Peck; mistress of records and correspondence, Miss Mamie Pollock.

The chairman of the committee having the installations in charge were: Knights, F. H. Davis; Pythian sisters, Mrs. Myra K. Shuey. To a great extent the success of the affair is due to the earnest work of these chairmen. After the banquet a short time was devoted to dancing and games.

WEST GLENDALE

Mrs. Frank Price of Alhambra was visiting with friends in Glendale the past week.

Keep an eye on the job ahead, but keep the other eye and both hands on the job you have.

Mrs. Hackett of 1509 Hawthorne street has been confined to her bed for the past week with a bad case of tonsilitis.

Cornwell & Kelty were awarded the contract for furnishing paints, oils and hardware for Dr. Thompson's new hospital at Burbank.

Mr. Betz, the cement and brick contractor, is erecting a small cottage near the corner of Columbus avenue on Hawthorne street.

Mr. Oliver Papineau of Ivy street is the proud possessor of a fine new Ford automobile and is seen spinning along the streets with the grace of an experienced chauffeur.

Good intentions are the eggs from which come good deeds. The only reason they are not more highly regarded is that so many of them fail to hatch.—Youth's Companion.

Don't forget the banquet at the West Glendale M. E. church on next Tuesday evening at 6:30 p. m. This will be given by the men and the price will be 25c. Everybody turn out and show the gentlemen your appreciation.

The city has certainly been doing some very good work of late in trimming the trees along the parkways of the streets. This will be very much appreciated by those who before were obliged to circle around them, and take to the street in order to avoid the overhanging branches.

During the cold spell of late the plumbers have been kept quite busy mending broken water pipes as a result of freezing and bursting. This is something very unusual. Milk was frozen in bottles left out over night and in one place close by potatoes were frozen in the ground. This is just to keep the easterners who just arrived from that homesick feeling they so often have at first.

We have often seen fruit trees with broken limbs as a result of too heavy crop, but very seldom does any one see in this country a fruit tree, or any kind for that matter so weighted down with ice that the limbs break. This happened recently on the Carpenter place on West Broadway. A large water tank overflowed during the night and this particular apricot tree stood under it. The next morning it presented a most beautiful sight being completely covered with ice and when the sun shone on it it was certainly a beautiful picture—something so out of the ordinary. Several pictures were taken of it.

VALLEY VIEW

O. M. Evans and family have moved into the house at 1428 West Seventh.

A Mr. Heffelfinger has moved into F. O. Heebing's house at 1618 Oak street.

M. L. Robinson and wife of 457 Pacific avenue entertained his mother from the East.

Miradero Lodge, Knights of Pythias, held installation of officers on Wednesday, January 8th.

Mrs. A. B. Phillips has returned home from a few days' visit with a daughter in Los Angeles.

Mr. L. B. Case of 610 Central avenue, has returned home from a several months' visit in Des Moines, Iowa.

Will Case of 1325 Lomita has returned home from a several months' sojourn in the Central part of the state.

Many water pipes in this section of the city burst during the excessive cold of Monday night and plumbers were kept busy.

The Elks lodge of Glendale initiated eight members on Monday night and took in eight new applications. A lunch and a jolly good time was enjoyed after the business meeting.

Mrs. M. T. W. Arfwedson of 1534 West Fifth street, has rented her home here and will move to the Carmagnole Apartments in Los Angeles so that she may be near the Sisters' School where she teaches music.

Mrs. W. C. Bradley arirved at home a few days ago from Oaxaca, Mexico, where she spent three months with her husband who is superintendent of an important branch of the Mexican National railway.

Three packages None Such Mince Meat, 25 cents; dates, 10 cents a pound; Crisco, 25 cents a can; eggs, 25 cents a dozen; Eagle Brand milk, 15 cents a can, at the Bungalow Grocery.

Mr. Maxwell, who lives at 213 Kenwood street, was quite badly injured Monday night when he was riding home from Los Angeles on his motorcycle. He was found unconscious beside the road by an automobile party who took him home. He does not know how the accident happened.

An excellent program will be given at the Auditorium next Sunday at 3.00 o'clock. Miss Marga Jarman, a native daughter, who has had all of her training in California, will be the soloist. Miss Jarman has had two operatic tours and it will be a rare treat to hear so wonderful a singer at the low price of admission. Reserved seats anywhere in the house, 25 cents.

Valley View continues to grow. The two Kent bungalows, one at the corner of Vine and Columbus and the other at Seventh and Columbus, are nearing completion. Contractor Hyde is putting up a large house at 1533 Vine for Mr. Begg of Los Angeles and Dr. Cable has sold three lots in his subdivision south of Vine and west of Columbus, on all of which nice homes will be erected.

Valley View needs a postoffice substation. We are more than a mile from any office and it is very hard for residents to go such a distance for stamps and money orders. Doubtless a well-signed petition would bring the much-needed blessing and our grocers, Kilborn & Peters have a little room adjoining the store that would be a fine location for it. A little office for the sale of stamps and money orders would be quite a boon. Let's get busy and go after it.

Dr. Lulu M. Marquam has recently returned to Glendale from Portland, Oregon, where she was engaged in medical practice for nine years; previous to that she practiced nine years in Eugene, Oregon.

Mrs. Marquam is now busily engaged in improving the property at 1455 Oak street which she purchased two years ago from Mr. Long. During her absence from Glendale she has spent much time in studying the schools for girls on the western coast, and finding that Huntington Hall in Los Angeles came the nearest her ideal, she has placed her charming daughter, Lynndale, there.

When she has finished work which she has planned, which will take a year or more, Mrs. Marquam intends going to Europe to take a post-gradate course in a medical college at Vienna. Her daughter will go abroad with her. After that time Mrs. Marquam will return to the Pacific Coast and take up her medical work and also the work for bettering the conditions of women and girls in which she has been engaged wherever she has lived.

Glendale was well represented at the concert given by the People's Orchestra last Sunday, at the Auditorium theater in Los Angeles.

Mrs. Edmund S. Shank, who is well known in musical circles in Glendale and Los Angeles, was the soloist of the afternoon. She sang "Caro Nomi" (Dear Name) by Verdi, and responded to an enthusiastic encore by singing "That is the World in June," by Gilbert Spross, a composer of many beautiful pieces.

Mrs. Shank lives at 1533 Riverdale Drive and was recently asked if she would not like to live in some of the musical centers of Europe and she answered that Glendale was her choice above all other places for a home. Mrs. Shank is very fond of young people and is always delighted when she can do anything which will add to their happiness. She sings each year for the pupils of the West Glendale school, and made many friends among the high school students when she sang in the concerts which were given there recently under the direction of the Tuesday Afternoon Club and the Music Teachers' Extension Association.

New Year Resolution

RESOLVED—That I will call at No. 417 Brand Boulevaod and inspect the New Stock of Furniture, Rugs, Linoleums, Baby Buggies, etc., also Beds, Mattresses, etc., etc., and Resolved further:—That I will buy in Glendale at Los Angeles prices of PARKER & STERNBERG, who are headquarters for the above, also Houses, Lots, Acreage.

HAS A GRIEVANCE.

Mr. J. P. Barker and family moved into the house, 1451 Vine street about three weeks ago. Thursday morning of last week Mrs. Barker having occasion to turn on the hot water in the bathroom, was greatly alarmed when steam instead of water came out in quite a volume. Upon investigation it was found that the water had been turned off without notice, a previous tenant having left without paying his bill. Mr. Barker feels that he has just cause for grievance against a water company that expects new comers in the neighborhood to be as familiar with its rules as are the members of its office force and arbitrarily shuts water off without notice endangering property if not life as hot water boilers quite frequently explode when the water is withdrawn suddenly.

YULETIDE FAMILY GATHERING.

Mr. and Mrs. George Ward of 222 West Third street, assisted by their daughter, Miss Lillian Ward, presided at the annual Christmas family gathering which was held in their home for Christmas of 1912.

Decorations were tastefully carried out in Christmas greenery, comprising holly, mistletoe and pepper boughs.

One o'clock dinner was served at a table prettily adorned with poinsettias and smilax, clever place cards of poinsettias bearing the baby pictures of the guests marked covers arranged for sixteen.

An afternoon of pleasure was enjoyed with music and games. A gaily decorated Christmas tree, well laden with gifts was thoroughly appreciated, especially when Santa Claus arrived on the scene to dispense presents for one and all. The day of true holiday fun and jollity was completed with the serving of tea late in the evening. A number of out-of-town guests enjoyed the happy occasion.

PIKE'S PEAK NOT THE HIGHEST.

What is the highest mountain in Colorado? "Pike's Peak," nineteen persons out of twenty will answer, and incorrectly. The twentieth may know that the two highest mountains in the state are Mount Massive and Mount Elbert, both in Lake county, in the Leadville district. The altitude of each of these mountains, according to the United States Geological Survey, is 14,402 feet above sea elvel. The height of Pikes Peak is 14,108 feet. Moreover, there are fifty or sixty other peaks in Colorado approximately as high—over 14,000 feet. The lowest point in Colorado is 3350 feet above sea level. Of all the states Colorado has the highest average altitude, estimated by the geological survey at 6800 feet.

Although not the highest mountain, Pikes Peak is probably the best-known peak in the United States. There was at one time a weather bureau station on its summit, and it now has a substantial railroad station at the terminus of the highest railway line in North America. It can also be reached by an excellent wagon road and trail which connect the summit with Colorado Springs.

It is noticed in temperance papers that the Kenyon-Shepard bill, in which we are all so much interested, had a hearing before the senate at Washington, D. C., Dec. 16th, Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire as chairman. This bill is to prohibit interstate commerce in intoxicating liquors, or in other words, shipping into prohibition states. Nine states, Maine, Tennessee, Georgia, West Virginia, Ohio, New York, Alabama, Kentucky, Virginia, North Dakota, Oklahoma were represented by their W.C.T.U. state presidents at a conference before and after the session; also national president and vice president, ministers and lecturers from several states. Fervid prayers and requests were wired for the passage of this bill from all over our nation. We white ribboners are watching our senators from every state to know just how they vote on this bill and many others, the red light injunction bill as well. As men realize now woman has the same power as man they will listen.

OUR POLICEMEN ARE WIDE AWAKE.

Thursday evening last the editor of the NEWS left his trusty bicycle in front of the office, as usual for years past, but it proved to be its unlucky night, for a thief got away with it between 5 and 6 o'clock, and the editor walked home. Officer Jim Everett was put on the scent, and twenty-four hours later found the wheel on Glendale avenue, near the lumber yards, where it had evidently recently been left. The officer watched it for some time, wishing to thank the thief for returning it and pay him other and sundry attentions, but he failed to show up. It is owing to the vigilance of our night policeman that the editor is able to ride about as of old, and he appreciates the excellent work of the officer in keeping his eyes open to good purpose.
